SIX JAPANESE BOMBERS SHOT DOWN IN AIR FIGHTS

Invaders Intercepted By Chinese Pursuit Planes On Outskirts Of Hengyang City

Abortive Attempt To Raid Wuhan Cities

Hengyang, Hunan, August 18.
FOUR JAPANESE BOMBERS WERE HIT BY CHINESE MACHINE-GUN FIRE and crashed in a terrific engagement shortly after nine o'clock this morning when a squadron of twenty-seven raiders invaded the city.

Immediately it was ascertained that the Japanese planes were heading for the city. Chinese pursuits took to the air and threw a cordon around the city limits. The Japanese planes were intercepted as they reached the outskirts.

The air battle was witnessed by thousands of people. Displaying better skill with their speedier machines, the Chinese airmen soon outmanoeuvred the raiders and shot down four of them, one after the other, in mid-air.

The rest of the Japanese machines were put out of formation and scattered.

One of the doomed machines crashed at the foot of the picturesque Hengshan mountains, while the other three hit the ground on the eastern suburbs.

One Chinese machine was hit and caught fire at the height of the dog fight and the pilot was killed.

During the course of the raid, a few Japanese planes dropped a score of bombs over the aerodrome, all of which landed on open spaces outside the airfield and caused no damage.—(Central News).

ANOTHER AIR BATTLE

Hankow, Aug. 18.
Two Japanese planes were shot down by Chinese pursuits during a furious dog-fight over Huanggang, about 40 kilometres east of Wuchang, on the north bank of the Yangtze, shortly this morning.

One of the ill-fated machines crashed near Chengkiatu. The Japanese pilot, who escaped from the machine, was captured. The other machine fell near the brink of the river.

Six Japanese light bombers took part in an abortive attempt to raid Wuhan this morning.—(Central News).

TUNGKWAN RAIDED

Tungkwan, Aug. 18.
Three Japanese planes raided
Tungkwan this morning and dropped 35 bombs at various points of the town.

Twenty houses were demolished.

Government is "resolutely hostile to the control of exchanges franc."

The Premier announced that he will shortly broadcast details of the programme containing "indispensable energetic measures for the maintenance of currency and the defence of the nation."—(Reuter).

TENSION AT SOOCHOW

Shanghai, Aug. 18.
Soochow is in the throes of nervous apprehension as the Chinese regular units at Sheungchow are nearing Woo-kiu.

Fearing an outbreak of fresh hostilities, the inhabitants there are pouring into the Shanghai area.

The Japanese troops at Footing suffered severe losses at the hands of Chinese guerrillas, who have changed their tactics by effecting joint attacks, instead of working in separate units.

The district of Chuensha, in Soochow, was retaken by the Chinese mobile units last night. Saying, the neighbouring district was also once occupied, but was later voluntarily abandoned.—(International).

Czechoslovakia Situation Now Extremely Difficult

CAN BE SAVED BY INTERVIEW

London, August 18.
Hopes have been revived in Czech circles in London by news of the impending interview, says Reuter's diplomatic correspondent.

It is felt that if anything can save the situation, now admitted to be extremely difficult, such an interview can.

The most disturbing factor in the Sudeten rejection of Dr.
Hodza's minorities plan, from the Czech point of view was the time chosen to announce it. If their reply to Dr. Hodza's proposals was only to be negative it is felt that it might easily have been given earlier.

The continuance of negotiations under something like an external threat, was being rendered difficult for the Government. Czech quarters observe.—(Reuter).

DEADLOCK PREVENTED

Komotau, in the Sudeten-German region, close to the German frontier.—(Reuter).

TUNIS SIEGE RAISED

The state of siege that had pre-

Party was suppressed, was raised yesterday.

The Governor-General last night issued a message of appeasement.

while driving through the city

His chauffeur was seriously injured. Three men are believed to have participated in the attack,

Hearing Commenced Against Man Accused Of Wounding Mrs. Lafleur

GARDENER MISSING

Committal proceedings at the Kowloon Court, before Mr. Barnett, were commenced yesterday against Cheung Tak, charged with assault with intent to rob, by two or more, and with wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm of Mrs. Lily Lafleur at her home, New Kowloon Inland Lot 63, on July 5.

Outlining the case, Detective-Inspector A. E. Carey described the position of Mrs. Lafleur's home, its situation opposite the Kai Tak Airport, and the approaches leading to it.

At the time of the incident, only a gardener and an amah had been in the house with Mrs. Lafleur. The gardener has since absconded, and cannot be found.

Mrs. Lafleur was in the sitting room, reclining on a settee, when two men entered the room from different doors. Both had attacked her, one of them stabbing at her with a dagger. It is alleged that Cheung Tak is the man who had wounded Mrs. Lafleur by stabbing her in the side.

In the ensuing struggle, Mrs.
Lafleur managed to snatch away
the dagger from Cheung Tak, stabbing at him with it. She did not know if she had inflicted any wound on him.

Mrs. Lafleur had then run out of the house. In the garden she met a third man, who had struck at her with his fist.

CONFIDE IN FAITH PRIOR

MUDDLED is honest and restless and quick minded. She has a husband and child, but this does not suffice.

Women trained in business, with active minds and mercurial temperaments are not frequently happy in marriage for the first dozen years. This sounds odd, but the reward for making an honest job of marriage comes after middle age when rest, peace, companionship, security, shelter and grown-up children give their mixed blessings to the mother. Study, work or go to business again and pay someone to housekeep and care for the child while you are absent.

TO BE ACTRESS: You are 16 and talk of running away to embark on a film career. You have not the fare to America or England, nor could you leave this country without your parents authority.

Be a sensible girl and stop reading so many romantic stories. There are thousands of clever, sophisticated, beautiful and richly-dressed girls of all nationalities doomed for life through wanting what you want and sacrificing too much to obtain it.

If you must have an outlet join or organise a small dramatic club and try your talents on your friends. A great deal of training is necessary for the films or theatre today. If in two years from now you still feel inclined, commence to study and educate yourself with an acting career in view.

SUNSET AGE is elderly, but carefully groomed, slim and cultured. A man slightly older is anxious to marry her for mutual relief from loneliness, but the point is that she knew him in her youth and he does not realise this. She was then indiscreet. He does not know her girlhood name, as they met at dances and outings. Should she tell him of her youthful follies, and risk losing him now, or let him judge her only by her present dignity and adult wisdom.

If she can give peace and comfort to him, and he to her, why should this autumn romance mix with the always morbid and sentimental business of exhuming a past quite dead and buried so spoiled?

PERPLEXED submits an unusual problem of the eternal triangle. The man was secretly married long ago, so nobody could gossip because of your friendship with him. He has behaved honourably, but the marriage was doomed from the beginning. He told you honestly and asked your understanding, and there is no home to be broken-up and nobody is hurt.

But for the legal obstacles there are no essentially awkward barriers. However, the legal angle must be considered if a divorce is the desire of all concerned. There is danger of its being contested should the wife in name only consider you unconventionally trespassing. Friendship open, honest, platonic can do little harm, but do not in any way jeopardise his chances and your own of happiness by causing reasons for objection.

ORPHANED GIRL gives reasons for doubt about making her home with a very nice mother of a family. The girl is orphaned and lonely, and the mother finds her house lonely after her daughters have married.

No matter what one does, people gossip, and the more one tries to please everyone the less one pleases oneself. You are fond of the boy and he of you. Because he is at home, that is no reason why you should deprive yourself of a home. Let people say what they want. You would be giving help and doing good, so there would be no cause for sensitiveness.

DEAR FAITH PRIOR: My mother and father have been dead for five years. During the past years I have supported myself in a business career and lived with another woman. Both of us are in our thirties and have led respectable lives. Now, all of a sudden a man has put forth untruthful and derogatory gossip about me. What would you advise me to do. I cannot afford to have my reputation sullied—BUSINESS WOMAN.

Dear Business Woman: I do not know who are the worse gossip, men or women? I know this situation annoys and worries you. All of us, now and again, put ourselves in the position that can easily cause gossip, but that is ordinary life.

Unless this man is regarded as an intelligent and educated person, which I doubt from his actions, do nothing. When you are confronted with his gossip, simply deny the story. Continue to live your life as in the past, hold up your chin and smile at the world about you. You can and must be an individual—be above such high schoolboy nonsense.

Round The Shops

The early bird is "the one that catches something, and in this case it will be the best selection from the new shipments just arrived from the fashion centres. A marvelous sale also starts on Monday at one of Kowloon's specialty shops. It is just about the last one this season, and an early call will provide you with a choice of the outstanding values.

Mad Money

All of us, when, prancing forth for an evening of very dignified fun, need a formal and dressy handbag. A new group has just arrived and is on display at one of the larger shops. Seed pearls, silver and gold mesh, brocades in colourful metal and silk threads are brought into the design of these bags.

The all-gold or silver mesh bags are very new and glamorous. They catch the lights and shimmer as molten silver or gold. Of course, this particular type can be worn with practically any evening or dinner ensemble, consequently, owning one would be an investment this coming autumn and winter.

All the styles in this group are large enough to carry your beauty equipment, kerchief and the "mad money" we sometimes use.

Very inexpensive and flattering are the sequin, rhinestone and gold leather hair ornaments for the evening coiffure. For $2.95 you become the happy possessor of a tiny comb attached. At multi-coloured wings and body, which is worn in the hair by means of a tiny comb attached. At $3.25 your crowning glory will sparkle with rhinestone wasps or butterflies which are secured to the hair as described above.

If you are one of those ladies who boast of a glossy and healthy head of hair, these small, very new and attractive pins are all you will need to "complete the final headress picture this coming season."

In this same shop a new shipment of plain and novelty belts is to be found. Suede and kids predominate and the combined arrangement in style of the two is very new and unusual.

The clasps are something we have not had before. Gone is the simple buckle clasp. Loops, knots, bows, wood designs and various twists of leather characterise several of the fasteners.

The colour range is very good—blacks, blues, reds, browns, and groups of colours. A double belt of suede and thin rolled kid, with two small buckles as the clasp, is very different for sport or daytime dresses. Evening and informal belts are quite plain but attractive due to the choice of leather.

New Straws

Straws are still right for hats. However, the new in-between-season straw bonnets are in the darker shades. Blues, a few browns, greens and wine colours are being shown. Of course, black is king right now. These hats have trims of bright colours in ribbons, feathers, fruits, flowers or veils; thus relations can be established between hat, frock or shoes.

A small selection of these new hats is now on display in one of our smart hat shops and awaits your approval.

Save Half

Just about the last sale of the season will take place in one of Kowloon's specialty dress shops on Monday. All dresses daytime, sports, playtime, afternoon, the 6 to 9 p.m. and evening ensembles will be reduced to half their price. A small group of bonnets will be marked down to half price, too. And a chance for all is the addition of a few of the new autumn frocks, just arrived.

Snatch your purse, put your chapeau on the head and start off to this shop. We guarantee you will not be blue for long, but very thrilled and satisfied.

NEXT TO YOUR SKIN—UNDIES

DO you give much thought to that personal question of undies?

They should be sophisticated, glamorous, gay or tailored, depending upon your personality.

Do not be bulky in these garments. They should flatter you, fit well and be a perfect foundation for the final ensemble.

There are various styles of robes. The severely tailored robe, which is washable, is a boom for every-day wear. A silk tailored man's style robe is excellent for travel purposes. The fluffy-fuff negligee with ribbons, ruffles, pleats and tucks is for the grand moment, as well as a heavy satin, simply-made robe. Of course, your personality makes the selection.

Go to town, in the choice of your nighties.

White, grey, flesh, tea rose, yellow and champagne are the outstanding selection of colours.

Ruffles, gathers, pleats, puffed sleeves; square, V, round and backless are the various bodice styles.

Skirts are gored, flared, very full, pleated and bias cut. Again, let the style suit your personality. Monograms are very smart on your gowns, as well as on your whole lingerie wardrobe.

new garment in this line is the opposite stretch, which has been cleverly combined with an open diaphragm that almost solves any equation of lines and curves. It is made in styles for slim average and heavier figures.

Back panel is in up-and-down stretch satin, made with Lastex. Side panels are in side-to-side stretched satin, with Lastex. Front panel is in non-elastic satin, lightly boned, with centre slide fastener closing, plush-lined, and specially designed to flatten the diaphragm. The brassiere top is in Alençon lace over net, with satin inserts. Lastex is always the principal ingredient for fit, comfort and control.

MOULDING THE FIGURE

For girls with the useful figures a girdle will hold and mould the waistline and hips. It also adds allure to your frivolous frocks and glamorous gowns. Some are wire power nets and laces that smooth young curves the way they should go. Others streamline maturing figures, and still others are definitely more determined.

For heaven's sake, don't trust to nature to keep you smooth under your thin summer dresses. A girdle will give you even control and sleek freedom.

Handkerchief Linen For Summer Dinner Gown

What could be more charming and, at the same time, so elegant in its smart simplicity, than this Mainbocher dinner gown in finest white handkerchief linen?

Little tucks round the waistline give impetus to the slightly full tunic depth which hangs straight above a similarly gauged frill finishing at ground length. These tiers are embroidered with a floral design and have a scalloped edging in a contrasting colour that matches the satin belt.

SLIPS ARE SLIPS

Slips are slips. A new daytime one has a top crossed with satin bindings, Greek fashion, and the side closed with inner seams, machine-stitched, for added wear. It is called the sculptural Bra-Slip. White is the usual colour for slips, both for evening and day wear. The general accepted cut is on the bias; this gives a perfectly smooth foundation for the dress. And ladies, it is not these days, but please do not forget your slip.

Now, for the panties. Some of you modern girls do not believe in wasting cash on them, but they are a necessary item. The tailored panties are preferred by the majority. Have them well cut, no ruffles, pleats or gathers. They should fit you like a glove and give a perfect foundation. White, again, is the preferred choice.

SOLVES ANY EQUATION
The definite and outstanding garment in your wardrobe should be the foundation. A

THE BRASSIERE

From the hair on your head to the tip of your toes everything is on the up and up this season.

Ladies with the sagging busts are the worst offenders in sloppiness. Busts should go up and be well rounded, and any number of brassieres will do these two things for you. Satin, net, lace, broadcloth, and combinations of these materials are made into brassieres to suit each one of your needs.

Many of you do not find a need for this garment with your evening attire. Those of you who do should have the backless brassiere which will give you absolute comfort, security and service.

Have plenty of lingerie—keep to the plain and tailored fashions. Satin is the outstanding and popular material, as it is smooth and furnishes a slick under surface for your dresses. Of course, the last word in swankiness is to have your monogram on each piece of your undies.

PROMOTIONS TO FLAG RANK

The Admiralty announce that the following promotions and retirements have been approved:—

To be Promoted to Rear-Admiral in his Majesty's Fleet to date August 10, 1938:—

Captain (Commodore First Class) Edward L. S. King, M.V.O., A.D.C., R.N.

Captain Arthur F. Pridham, A.D.C., R.N.

Rear-Admiral William P. Mark-Wardlaw, D.S.O.

Rear-Admiral E. L. S. King is to be reappointed in his present appointment on promotion.

37 REAR-ADMIRALS

This is the second list of promotions since the change introduced a year ago whereby, instead of advancements being made from the top of the captains' list as vacancies occurred, they are now made in half-yearly batches.

The number promoted (eight) is the same as in January, and then, as now, three of the officers promoted were placed on the retired list. The active list of rear-admirals is increased by the new promotions from 32 to 37, compared with the maximum establishment of 40. This total is much lower than in past years.

There were 58 rear-admirals on the list in 1914, and more were added temporarily during hostilities, but in 1922 the number remained at 58. It was afterwards reduced gradually to 38 by 1931, on account of the fewer opportunities of employment for flag officers.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

FAR EAST COMMAND STAFF

Squadron Leader J. Warburton, recently serving as a supernumerary officer with No. 6 (Auxiliary) Group, London, has been appointed for air staff duties at headquarters of the Far East Command, Singapore.

In 1935 Squadron Leader Warburton qualified as an interpreter in Japanese after courses at the School of Oriental Studies and in the Far East. He has since been employed with Army cooperation units and in command of No. 59 (A.C.) Squadron at Old Sarum.

His service began as a cadet in the Navy in May, 1918, and after completing his course at Osborne and Dartmouth he entered Cranwell College in September, 1922. From 1927 to 1931 he was with No. 5 (Army Cooperation) Squadron in India.

GAOL FOR STAMP DEALERS

Forged Coronation Day Postmarks

What was described by Mr. Justice Charles at Stafford as sizes recently as a "widespread and wicked scheme" resulted in two Birmingham stamp dealers being sent to prison.

They were charged with conspiracy to defraud and with forging Coronation Day postmarks on Colonial stamped envelopes which were sold as genuine first-day covers.

George Whitehurst, 55, who was described as "the fountainhead of this conspiracy," was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment in the second division, and John Driscoll Harris, 44, was sentenced to nine months in the second division.

For the prosecution it was stated that the prisoners forged postmarks on envelopes bearing Colonial Coronation stamps purporting to show that they had been posted on May 12, 1937.

A typist gave evidence that she saw Whitehurst postmark a number of stamps with a die.

Police Supt. A. J. Callinan stated that so far as the police had been able to ascertain the men, between them, sold 3,283 forged covers, and the total amount for which they were sold was £2,119.

Addressing Whitehurst, Mr. Justice Charles said: "You engaged in a very clever and very wicked scheme to make money for yourself out of other people by fraud, and you are a forger."

To Harris, the judge said: "I am sure that at the commencement you had the perfectly honest intention of getting genuine sets and selling them to your customers, as you have done for 28 years."

"Unfortunately you met this man, who had only entered upon the stamp business for the sake of acting as a fraudulent forger."

The Department of Education of Honan has established an office each at Nanjang, Loyang, Chengchow and Hanchang to register the names of students from Japanese-occupied areas preparatory to the formulation of effective relief measures.

PANORAMA OF CHINESE LIFE

In "The Good Earth," the story of the impoverished farmer Wang Lung and his wife O-lan, who fight against locusts, against famine, against revolution, is unfolded a panorama of Chinese civilisation.

The film, made from Pearl Buck's famous novel, is now showing at the Majestic Theatre at popular prices.

Sidney Franklin, who has made many fine pictures, directed, and the cast, headed by Paul Muni and Luise Rainer, includes Tilly Losch, Charles Grapewin, Harold Huber, Jessie Ralph, Soo Young, Keye Luke, Roland Lui, Lotus Lui and Suzanne Kim.

BLIND ALIBI

Richard Dix returns to the screen in another of his powerful dramatic characterisations as the star of "Blind Alibi," an RKO-Radio picture which opens at the Queen's Theatre today.

Sharing honours with the virile star are Whitney Bourne, as his romantic interest, Eduardo Clannell as the menace, and "Ace, the Wonder Dog."

Dix, as a struggling sculptor, pledges his aid in recovering from blackmailers certain letters that his sister wrote. While prosecuting his exciting search, he pretends blindness behind a pair of smoked glasses and uses a guiding dog to further carry out his masquerade. Romance develops during his perils when he meets Whitney Bourne.

OXFORD MAN IN CHINESE ARMY AS PRIVATE

Mr. Henry Peterson, who served in the British Army in the Great War and later graduated at Oxford University, recently passed through Singapore on his way to China to enlist as a private in the army of General Chiang Kai-shek. He has changed his name to Peter Chen.

Mr. Peterson was born of a Danish father and a Chinese mother in Hong Kong 46 years ago and has lived in England for the last 27 years. He is seeing the East for the first time since his departure from China in 1911.

He served in the Great War with the Royal Fusiliers and later was a second lieutenant in the Royal Flying Corps.

Mr. Peterson was at Oxford from 1919 until 1921 and graduated with first-class honours in English literature. Under the name of Peter Chen he has written a book, "Honourable and Peculiar Ways."

Lost Indian City Lost Again

Lost City, ancient home of prehistoric Indian tribes, which for centuries was hidden by sand, was swallowed up recently by Lake Meade—and is now lost forever.

Several years ago Fay Perkins, Jr., discovered Lost City and under the auspices of the State of Nevada, carried on considerable excavation. A number of relics were uncovered. Some of them dating back to 400 A. D., according to archaeological experts.

About 10 years ago, under the direction of James G. Scrugham, then Governor of Nevada, a gigantic pageant was staged at Lost City.

A village was reconstructed to show the existence of a former day, and manners and customs were reenacted by a group of trained players. Thousands of visitors came to see the remains of early Indian huts, arts, and pottery.

During recent years, excavation has steadily progressed, bringing to light skeletons, huts, pottery, baskets, and many varieties of beads.

Most of these relics have been preserved in a museum, operated by the State, which is high beyond the reach of the spreading waters. The Boulder lake swallowed up the pioneer community of St.

SUDETENS DISCUSS DEMANDS GOVERNMENT MINORITY PLANS UNACCEPTABLE NEGOTIATIONS TO CONTINUE

Prague, August 18.
Negotiations between representatives of the Sudeten German Party, Dr. Milan Hodza, the Premier, and other members of the Czech Cabinet, opened yesterday.

The Sudetens' attitude is that while they do not accept the Government's minority proposals, they are not closing the door to further negotiations.

The Sudetens declare, firstly, that the Government proposals are inadequate; secondly, they object to the presence of members of the Parliamentary Committee at the meetings between themselves and the Government.

Herr Kundt, at the meeting yesterday, reviewed the Government proposals at some length and repeated the view expressed in the Sudeten memorandum that the Czech Government's conception was that the State was the Czech National State whereas, according to the Sudeten conception, it should be a State of Nationalities, all with equal rights.

Herr Kundt paid a tribute to the conciliatory spirit shown by the Czech Premier, Dr. Hodza, but claimed that the Government's proposals did not meet the wishes and claims advanced by Herr Henlein in his Karlsbad speech.

Herr Kundt stressed the importance of first reaching an agreement on the question of principles, after which, he said, the details would resolve themselves, although the result of negotiations had so far shown that a big gulf still existed.

SUDETEN PATIENCE

Herr Kundt expressed the hope that there would be an attempt to display a little goodwill towards the Sudetens in a public and convincing manner. At the same time, he warned the Government that the patience of the Sudeten population was not as great as that of their delegation.

GENERAL AGREEMENT

A communique issued after the meeting states that there was general agreement with regard to the desirability of reaching a common accord for a fundamental settlement of the minorities question.

The communique adds that the negotiations will be continued.

It is semi-officially stated that conversations between the Sudeten leaders and Lord Runciman had the happy result that their tone and the presentation of their case was considerably modified, so that the conversations could be held calmly and objectively.

The statement adds that it would be a mistake to over-estimate certain manifestations in the Czech camp. The situation of the Government is stronger than ever, and thus it is possible to take up a more favourable attitude to certain Sudeten conditions which so far have been regarded as outside the scope of the discussions.

HENLEIN TO MEET LORD RUNCIMAN

According to unconfirmed reports Herr Henlein, the Sudeten leader, and Lord Runciman will meet in the near future.—(Reuter).

New Dyke To Stem Flood

PROJECT STARTED IN HONAN

Chengchow, August 18.
Plans for building a gigantic dyke from Huayankow, north of here, to Chowchiakow, about 75 miles southeast of Kaileng, to stem the flood in Honnan, have been announced by the Yellow River Conservancy Commission.

The dyke, measuring about 150 miles in length will pass through Kwangwu, Chungmow, Kaileng, Yushih, Yenling, Fukow, Shua and Shangshui districts which are most affected by the flood. It will entail a total cost of $2,384,375.

It will be built in three sections.
Work on the first section has already been started by 45,000 flood refugees and is expected to be finished in about 20 days.—
(Central News).

PARTITION NOT ABANDONED

Newspaper Report Draws Denial

London, August 18.
Official quarters here yesterday issued a sharp denial of the report published in London newspapers concerning the alleged intention of the Government to abandon the plan for triple partition of Palestine.
It is pointed out that the Royal Commission has not yet concluded its labours.

The Commission, which recently returned from Palestine, met behind closed doors in the Colonial Office yesterday.—(Transocean).

Later on in the day, the Fuehrer inspected the military training centre at what was formerly the

NATIONALISTS SHELL MADRID

Barcelona Again Raided

Madrid, August 18.
Ten were killed and 23
wounded when the Nationalists heavily shelled Madrid yesterday in reprisal for Tuesday's explosion of a land mine under University City by Republicans.

About 100 bombs were dropped in Barcelona in a Nationalist air raid yesterday, resulting in four killed and 17 wounded.—(Reuter).

More Japanese Troops Sent To Border

Hankow, Aug. 18.
In spite of an improvement in the border situation, the Japanese Command in North

Another Visit To The Far East Flying Training School

Inspection Of Parachutes LOCAL RESIDENTS' SUCCESS

(By Daily Press Staff Reporter)

Yes, the business of flying is all what people rave about it but, like all means of transportation, certain precautions must be taken for safety to planes and the people who fly in them.

Another visit to the Far East Flying Training School was of outstanding interest in the inspection of the Parachute Room and all the doings of these life belts of the air.

The parachutes used by this School are "Irving" manufactured and boast of a record in perfect performance under practically all conditions.

All persons flying in an open cockpit plane must wear a parachute. They are not useful to one below 500 feet but many people have found them very necessary and satisfactory at a height above this figure.

Now, these parachutes are queer looking contraptions. They are made of Japanese silk, weigh 30 pounds and are carried on your back, hitched on by straps crossing over the shoulders and meeting at your waist, to a belt. Then some more straps come through your legs and meet at the waist belt. A small aluminum circular disc holds the ends of the four straps of the chute.

When this gadget is turned to a certain point, a sharp tap will cause it to release the straps and you are free of the parachute. This is a very necessary feature when you use your parachute and find yourself falling into water, or landing in a strong wind. Otherwise, if you did not have this device, you very likely will be dragged or drowned by the huge 28 feet canopy of the parachute.

HOW TO CONTROL THEM

It all sounds very complicated, but you will not start your flying training without perfect knowledge of the parachutes and how to control them.

MR. E. A. GAUBERT

Squadron Leader Smith can make it appear very simple in his demonstrations, but do not ask him what it feels like to use one of the life savers of the air.

Each parachute costs $20 consequently very good care is taken of the babies. At the Flying School at Kai Tak there is a special room, heated to a certain temperature. This is necessary due to the lovely climate and humidity we have around here. Every thirty days the parachutes are unpacked and hung in this room for forty-eight hours of drying, inspection, and then packed again. A special licensed person only is allowed to perform this service.

MUST COUNT

And when you use your parachute for the first time, above all, do not forget to count three, after you are clear of the plane, and then pull the cord. You really just have to—or you do not live—to tell the tale.

This particular accessory to flying is very interesting to inspect. Some day when you are near the Airport drop in at the Far East Flying Training School and have one of the instructors explain and show them to you. You will enjoy the little time spent in learning something about parachutes.

We would like to introduce you to Flight Lieutenant G. F. Longfield the Assistant at the Flying Training School. This gentleman who will teach you to fly anything, and even if you were to change your mind about it, still teach you, has been with the School over four years. He really has a life just full of ups and downs as he is a very busy, capable instructor. Yes, ladies and gentlemen there is a Mrs. Flight Lieutenant. Do stop in and meet the Assistant when you drop by Kai Tak.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations are in order for Lt. Peter Acland of the Kumaon Rifles. Though we were not on hand last Tuesday, this charming, popular officer passed his "A" Licence test. Pleasure, amusement and interest were the causes for his decision to take up flying in earnest.

He will continue to study at the Far East Flying Training School and learn all about advanced flying. Some day he will, no doubt, give one of you young ladies in the Colony a ride in the ether for a Sunday afternoon's outing, and there is nothing much like that event.

Congratulations also to Mr. E. A. Gaubert. This quiet gentleman, who is connected with Jardine, Matheson Co., Ltd. Import Department, who has secured his "A" Licence. He will continue his training at the School for his "B" Licence in the Volunteer Air Arm.

TORPEDO BOAT FOR COLONY

Coastal Defence Augmented

A fast Hornet motor torpedo boat, an important unit of the Navy's coastal defence, is on its way to the Colony on board a merchant vessel, the naval authorities announced yesterday.

Manned by a crew of two officers and eight men, these boats weigh approximately 15 tons and are all-weather vessels, capable of a speed of over 40 knots. Sixteen of them can be built for the cost of one destroyer. They are shallow draft boats, and consequently can skim over minefields.

They carry multiple machine-guns and two eighteen inch torpedo tubes and they may also carry depth charges.

Powered by three 12-cylinder Napier engines, each of 500 horsepower, the little Hornets are easily manoeuvred.

It is possible that a few more will be dispatched here in the near future.

VERY SHORT OF RAIN

Over 20 Inches Below Average

Hong Kong is threatened with the driest year in its history unless an abnormal amount of rain falls during the next quarter.

Up to date only 40.39 inches of rain have been recorded and as only another 16 inches can be expected for the rest of the year, Hong Kong will be faced with another serious water shortage problem unless we get an abundance of rain.

The figure so far is 21.43 inches below the average.

It is interesting to note that in 1933 only 40 inches of rain fell up to the end of August, but for the last three months of the year 22 inches were registered as compared with the normal 16 inches.

The maximum rainfall during one year is 119.715 inches, the minimum 45.835 and the normal, 85.156 inches.

On Wednesday .03 of an inch was recorded, while maximum temperature was 87, and the minimum on Wednesday night 79. Yesterday the temperature was 81 and humidity was 85 per cent.

PIONEER OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION IN CHINA

Career Of Late Mrs. D.Y. Lin

Mrs. D. Y. Lin, wife of the Director of the Bureau of Agriculture and Forestry in Kwangtung, who died on Wednesday at the Hong Kong Sanatorium and Hospital, was a pioneer of physical education for women in China.

Educated at Wellesley College, where Madame Chiang Kai-shek also studied, the late Mrs. Lin received the degree of B.A. in Physical Education.

On her return to China in 1913 she became Secretary of the Shanghai Y.W.C.A. The next year, she was made principal of the Y.W.C.A. Normal School of Physical Education and was concurrently physical director of seven other schools in Shanghai.

ACTIVE SOCIAL WORKER

After her marriage, she continued her work in Shanghai, Nanking and Tsingtao and was for many years Professor of Physical Education at Ginling College. She had written many textbooks under the auspices of the Ministry of Education, with which she was connected as a member of the National Board of Physical Education.

The late Mrs. Lin was also very active in social service work. She helped to care for refugee children in Nanking and, lately in Canton, organised the Kwangtung War Economy Council and produced the Kwangtung Wartime Cook Book.

A mother, husband and three children survive her.

The funeral service will be held at St. Paul's Church today at 3 p.m. Bishop Hall will officiate, assisted by Rev. Paul S. F. Tso.

TUG OVERDUE

Up to a late hour yesterday evening, no further news had been received by the Netherlands Harbour Works whose tug, the Reinier, is many hours overdue in Hong Kong.

The Reinier commanded by Captain de Schipper, a Dutchman, carries a crew of ten Chinese.

She left here at midnight on August 16 for Bocca Tigris and was due back at 6 a.m. on Wednesday with a cargo of limestone, presumably in tow.

A statement issued by the owners said: The 40-ton tug Reinier of the Netherlands Harbour Works Co. of Hong Kong, is 24 hours overdue in Hong Kong from a trip to Bocca Tigris. It is thought that Japanese warships are responsible for the delay.

It will be recalled that some five months ago, the Reinier was stopped by a Japanese destroyer but was later allowed to proceed.

FURTHER PROTEST OVER EXTRADITION OF CHINESE

Hankow, August 18.

Dr. Chu Chia-hua, Chairman of the China League of Nations Union, has wired to Mr. Nelson T. Johnson, American Ambassador to China, and Mr. Stirling Fessenden, Secretary-General of the Shanghai Municipal Council, requesting them to take immediate steps to prevent the handing over of Chinese patriots arrested in the International Settlement in Shanghai to the Japanese military.

Dr. Chu points out that such action is not only in contravention of the Mixed Court Extradition Agreement of 1930, which states that any person arrested by the S.M.C. must be brought first to the Special District Court within 24 hours, but also against the principle of humanity. (Central News).

COLONIAL DEVELOPMENT

THE GROWTH of Hong Kong to its present important position among the cities of the world has been due mainly to the development in the shipping industry and allied interests. However, there can be no disputing that from now on the Colony will experience a rapid expansion as an industrial centre.

In the past few years many new industries have been established in Hong Kong and of late there has been a keen demand, which will become keener still, for land for industrial purposes.

In view of this trend it is most interesting to find that in a letter to the London Times, Sir Harry Lindsay calls attention to the great possibilities which may be opened to British trade by the development of the Colonial Dependencies.

Writing as Director of the Imperial Institute and member of the Colonial Empire Marketing Board, Sir Harry Lindsay urges that the standard of life, among the producers in the Colonies should be raised by encouraging the expansion of their exports and he points out that one of the results of such development would be to open vast markets for industrial products.

Although Sir Harry Lindsay directs his remarks mainly to primary production it is nevertheless interesting to find that a live interest in the Colonies is being taken at home.

The Colonial Empire Marketing Board, which was appointed last year, has resumed in regard to the dependent Empire the work which used to be done for the whole British Commonwealth by the Empire Marketing Board, before it was abolished in 1933.

The creation of the Board is an essential part of the campaign of economic development to which of recent years the Colonial Office has been devoting steadily increasing attention. This campaign, which demands in the first place the co-operation of many local administrations under wise leadership from the central authorities in the Colonial Office, needs for its full success the understanding support of the British public.

THE APPOINTMENT of the Royal Commission for the West Indies, or rather the series of disquieting revelations which made that appointment necessary, has shaken the complacency with which most people in Great Britain have been accustomed to regard the Colonial Empire.

They have come to realise that the present state of affairs in the Islands is the inevitable result of long years of neglect on their part of their responsibility for the social and economic welfare of the Colonies.

The expansion of the trade in colonial products is of course not merely an affair of marketing organisation and publicity. Things have to be produced before they can be sold and there are problems of production to be solved as well as problems of distribution. And in the solution of both there are many other considerations to

ITALY MAY LOSE ONE YEAR OF SPLENDID MICHELANGELO SCULPTURE

Cemented To Rock Wall Of Chapel

American art collectors are negotiating with the princely family of Barberini for the sale of Michelangelo's "Crucifixion," which has been in the possession of the family since it was completed by the sculptor 400 years ago.

The work is in the Chapel of the Rosary at the Barberini palace at Palestrina a hill town 23 miles from Rome. The chapel is hewn out of the rock. It is proposed to detach the sculpture from the rock walls, to which it was cemented by Michelangelo.

The Government has hitherto granted very few exceptions to the law against the export of old works of art. Since the present negotiations follow the sale of the copy of the Greek statue, the Discobolus, to the Munich Museum, other Italian owners of art treasures are hoping to sell some of their private collections abroad.

DOLLARS FOR GOVERNMENT

The new policy of a limited sale of masterpieces will enable the Italian Government to add to its gold exchange reserves and the private owners to replenish their coffers.

The purchase price will be handed over to the Ministry of Exchange and Foreign Currency, which will keep the dollars, sterling or francs paid, and will give the lire equivalent to the original owners.

The sum asked for the Michelangelo is not known, but it is certainly enormous.

The Barberini family owns a large number of very valuable works of art. The famous Portland vase, now in the British Museum, came from their collection in the days before there was any law against sending works of art abroad.

MOBILISATION IN CANTON

Canton, Aug. 18.
That Kwangtung will mobilise at least 100,000 men at any time to meet an emergency is the aim of the Canton Self-Defence Corps headed by Mayor Tsang Yang-fu, as Commander-in-Chief. Major-General Chang Chun-sung, who took part in the Shanghai war of 1932, is second-in-command.

The people will receive training immediately after the establishment of the corps on Sunday—(International).

YACHT CLUB TEAM

The following will represent the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club against Craigengower Cricket Club on Saturday:

P. S. Cassidy, B. Naess, A. Nissim, G. S. Archbutt (Skip), W. A. Cornell, E. Hospes, R. H. Wild, A. Murdoch (Skip), W. J. Hansen, A. S. Mitchell, J. A. D. Morrison, A. W. Brown (Skip).

be taken into account, as well as those of pure economics.

There is room and need for a great development in the export trade in colonial products which in its turn would create new outlets for the manufactured goods of Great Britain and other industrial countries.

BUT THIS development is not an end in itself, only a means to the true end, which is to raise the general standard of life in the Dependencies.

The final test of successful administration is not to be sought in increased returns of trade and prosperity, but in the growth of a healthy, prosperous and happy population with expanding opportunities for leading a fuller life.

This conception of their task is common to the Governments of all the Dependencies and is a general rule of policy in the Colonial Office. How onerous and complicated it has become is seldom realised.

It is becoming understood more and more fully that Britain's duty to the Colonial Empire is not confined to the maintenance of peace, with the provision of impartial Courts of Justice and of honest and efficient administration.

Great as are the efforts now being made to promote the social and economic welfare of native populations, they can only be assured of success if they are sustained by the informed and sympathetic interest of the people of Great Britain.

Activities Reviewed At Meeting Yesterday

The Hong Kong Women's Soldiers' Relief Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon to commemorate the first anniversary of the founding of the Association. The meeting was largely attended and the President, Mrs. Rose Tan, made a comprehensive review of the year's work and the financial report of the Association.

The following resume of the report shows the extensive and satisfactory results that have been achieved:

Soon after the Lukouchiao Incident, when all our troops were rushing to the various battle fronts, we realized that it was time for us to take up our responsibilities, and thus this Association was formed.

At that time we had less than 30 members, and there was no other association in Hong Kong undertaking the same work or having the same purpose. Our members have increased to more than 2,400 up to the end of July this year. This is all due to the awakening of Chinese women to their responsibilities.

Our work covers numerous branches, which are undertaken by several groups. Roughly speaking, they consist of the following:—finance, general affairs, receiving and distributing secretarial, working, propaganda, transportation, etc. Besides, there is a Relief corps and a committee for membership campaign.

The committee members closely co-operate with one another and perform their duties unflinchingly, so that all the work of the association can be executed swiftly and smoothly.

KINDS OF WORK
Besides encouraging contributions, canvassing for members, collecting contributions in goods, making such articles as required by hospitals and wounded soldiers, sending out relief corps to comfort the soldiers at the front and the refugees in the devastated areas, we also devote part of our funds to finance certain associations and hospitals that are in need.

For instance, we have given a sum to the Boy Scout War-time Service Corps for the purchase of Association for the Migration of Refugees in Kiangsi; supported one unit of the Chinese Red Cross Medical Corps; and made a standing donation to provisional hospitals.

RAISING FUNDS
We held a Dinner Dance on October 8, 1937 at the Hong Kong Hotel, and with the large proceeds we were able to buy a lot of necessities for relief. On October 22, we gave a Chinese musical performance at the Lee Theatre. On December 11 and 12 of the same year, we organized a large charity bazaar in Causeway Bay, with handsome results.

We sold flowers on February 12 this year, and the result of this broke the record of any flower day in Hong Kong. There was a musical concert by Prof. Gualdi and Mrs. Sylvia Choy on February 21. The kind offer of the services of the Isako circus from February 17 to March 2, also brought in good results and a concert by Mrs. Francesca Denies on March 16, was a great success.

In May the Association staged a Chinese play with Mr. Ma Sze-tang in the leading role and in June another with the assistance of Sun Hing Dramatic Troupe. On July 7 members of the Association observed a day of vegetarian diet and sold flowers. All proceeds from these activities were turned over to the relief work fund.

HELP FROM ALL QUARTERS
Because of our heavy work in the past nine months, we could not find an opportunity to express our thanks to our kind supporters, so we take this opportunity to voice our sincere gratitude.

We most sincerely thank the public both for their full-hearted support and material assistance and our members for their co-operation and tireless support, without which the good results of the past year could never have been achieved.

WAR WAIFS VISIT CHUNGKING

(From Our Chungking Correspondent)

Miss Feng Yun-shin, formerly of the staff of the Mongolian-Tibetan Affairs Commission at Nanking and now Principal of an orphanage to be located at Kangting, Kiang, has been visiting Chungking with 200 war waifs from the lower Yangtze. She is taking the children to the bordering territory for education and maintenance.

While in Chungking, Miss Feng and her charges were entertained by many friends, including Miss Feng's former associates in the Mongolian-Tibetan Commission. Miss Feng is a native of Sikang. Some 10,000 war waifs have been assigned to Szechuen and a committee of Szechuen citizens have started a drive for funds for their support.

TRAINING OF MERCHANT NAVY OFFICERS

Award For Special Merit

In 1935, at the instance of the Shipping Federation the Merchant Navy Officers Training Board was established.

A committee of shipowners and master mariners, with the assistance of principals of nautical schools, prepared a syllabus suitable for providing a uniform system of training apprentices and cadets throughout the Merchant Navy.

In the first 18 months of active operation of the scheme 87 per cent. of shipowners of all classes of vessels have adopted the course of training for approximately 2,300 of the younger generation of navigating officers.

From the results of the first year's examinations, now to hand, and it is worthy of notice that although the questions set are identical to all types of shipping—tramps and liners alike—a good proportion of the awards have been won by lads serving in the former type of vessel.

On August 8, Mr. K. M. Cutler, fourth officer of Royal Mail Liner motor-vessel Lochavon, was the recipient of the Royal Society of Arts Prize, acting under their Thomas Gray Memorial Trust, for outstanding and conspicuous merit in the Merchant Navy Officers Training Board Examination 1937 for apprentices and cadets.

The presentation was made on board the Lochavon by Mr. P. O. M. Mitchell, managing director of Royal Mail Lines, in the presence of the general manager of the Shipping Federation and representatives of the Merchant Navy Officers Training Board.

The Lochavon, a new ship of 9,200 tons, sailed on August 10 on her maiden voyage to the North Pacific Coast.

BRYN JONES AT THE ARSENAL

Smallest Member Of The Team

London, Aug. 8.

Bryn Jones, £14,000 footballer, played golf this afternoon, as his first duty to the Arsenal Club. "And it," he remarked, "I couldn't shoot straighter at football than at golf, my goals would not amount to as many as I should like."

Jones, who arrived in London last night, joined his new comrades of the Arsenal team today, to be the guest of Mr. W. E. Tanner and play a four-ball match at Frinton Golf Club against a team of members ten pairs a-side.

Jones was far and away the smallest member of the Arsenal side. He is a compact, stocky lad with dark eyes and crinkly hair and a strong Welsh accent.

He reminds me in figure, writes a Home correspondent, of no one more than Henri Cochet, former Wimbledon lawn tennis champion, except that at 5ft. 7in. he is even shorter and at 10st. 7lb. even lighter.

Before the golf I asked him the inevitable question. "What is it like to be worth £14,000?"

"The point about it," he replied, "that I am not worth £14,000. I wish I were."

"Wouldn't it be fine to get a part of it?"

"I know it would, but I can't. It isn't allowed, so it's no use worrying about it."

ONE OF THE TEAM

"I just want to settle down with the Arsenal side and become just a member of the team. Isn't that sufficient distinction? I ask nothing better."

"Where did I learn my football? Well, down in Wales where I come from they eat and drink football. I suppose I just grew up a footballer without having to be taught."

Everyone was playing football almost as soon as they could toddle. I just played with the others."

"But my golf handicap is 24, and I don't even own any clubs. I shall have to borrow some for today."

Jones's partner was Wilson, the goalkeeper, with whom he was matched against E. S. Fairbairn and H. B. Hammond. Nearly all the Arsenal first team, the manager, Mr. George Allison, and the trainer, Tom Whittaker, were out on the course.

UNITED HOCKEY LEAGUE

Owing to the fact that their fixtures for the season are too heavy, the Rajputana Rifles have withdrawn from both Divisions of the United Hockey League.

This leaves only ten teams in the competition and it is learned that all matches will be played on the Police Training School ground. There is, however, a possibility that the new Police ground will also be available later in the season.

CRICKET: CLOSE OF PLAY SCORES

London, August 17.

The following were the close of play scores in the cricket matches which started today.

Army 113; Australians 211 for 5 (at Aldershot).
Derby 282; Hampshire 31 for 2.
Gloucestershire 10 for 0; Lancashire 383.

Kent 519 v. Leicestershire.
Middlesex 237 for 6; Essex 108.
Warwickshire 8 for 1; Surrey 410.
Worcestershire 140; Somerset 144 for 5.
Yorkshire 349; Gloucester 11 for 0.—(Reuter).

HENRY ARMSTRONG BEATS AMBERS TO SET BOXING RECORD

First Man To Hold Three Titles In History Of Ring

LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE FIGHT DECISION WAS UNPOPULAR

New York, August 17.

Henry Armstrong, the negro fighter who already holds the featherweight and welterweight boxing crowns, added the lightweight title to his list tonight by beating Lou Ambers, the holder, on points. He has thus become the first triple champion in the history of boxing.

Armstrong won seven rounds, two were even and Ambers was given the verdict in six.

The negro would have won two more rounds but was deprived of them for fouling his opponent. However, he had built up a strong enough lead to overcome the penalty.

It was a very gruelling fight. The decision was an unpopular one with the crowd, who booed Armstrong and gave Ambers a great ovation.

Armstrong won the first three rounds with hard right hooks and body punches. Ambers got in some blows to the jaw from close in, but was forced to the ropes several times.

AMBERS FLOORED TWICE
The negro forced the fight, but Ambers got in several good blows to the jaw.

Ambers was floored twice. The first time was in the fifth round when he was put down by three successive rights. He was saved by the bell.

The second time was in the sixth round when he was down for nine from a right hook, but despite Armstrong's demon-like endeavour to score a knock-out, Ambers won the round.

Armstrong won the next two rounds, but Ambers gained the verdict in the ninth. The tenth was even.

Then Ambers won the eleventh and twelfth on Armstrong's fouls. Both men were very tired in the thirteenth and fourteenth rounds, but Armstrong came back strongly in the fifteenth and was still flourishing his arms at the finish.

SPLIT DECISION
The decision was a split one, one judge being eight to seven in favour of Armstrong, while the other gave it the other way round. The referee was seven to six for Armstrong, giving two rounds as even.

A crowd of 20,000 watched the fight.
Many considered that Ambers earned a draw. The ex-champion was put at a disadvantage by Armstrong's forcing style, but he kept his head and scored many points with a right to the head.

Armstrong weighed in at 134 lbs., his opponent 134½.—(Reuter)

At YangchiachwangTungkwan, August 18.
The situation in south Shansi has again become tense following the resumption of the Japanese offensive yesterday by two routes. Advancing to Pinglu from Chihhsien in the south Japanese troops were repulsed by the Chinese after a three-hour battle. Other Japanese units are pushing from Linchin on the east bank of the Fen River in south Shansi to Yungtsi (Puchow).

Chinese forces are concentrating in Linchin, Yungchi and Pinglu, forming a triangular area in order to check the Japanese advance on Tungkwan on the southern bank of the Yellow River.

The Chinese at Yangchiachwang, east of Huohsien, in south Shansi, scored a victory over the Japanese after fighting for several days.

More than ten Japanese officers and 150 soldiers were killed, and eight officers and 300 soldiers wounded.—(International).

Namoa Island
Radio Station
DestroyedSwatow, August 18.
That the Japanese on Namoa Island recently destroyed the radio station there by dynamiting it was revealed by wounded Chinese guerrillas brought here for treatment yesterday.

This accounts for the lack of reports on the situation on the Island recently.

The soldiers were wounded in the course of a counter-attack on Tuesday night on Lungao, on the west coast of the Island, when in several fierce hand-to-hand combats over 100 Japanese soldiers were slain.—(Central News).

WOUNDING CASE
AT KOWLOON

By this time her cries for help had attracted the attention of several members of the European staff of the Airport. They had come to her aid, meeting her at the gate of the house. The police were called to the scene, and Mrs. Lafleur was sent in an ambulance to the Kowloon Hospital.

An Emergency Unit squad, led by Police Sergeant W. McLeod, had later found, in the adjoining hills about two miles away, two men hiding under a rock. One of them had a stab wound in his arm, and incised cuts in his hand.

His jacket had two buttons missing. A third button appeared to be sewn on with a different kind of thread.

BUTTON FOUND

A button with some thread on it, found at the scene of the assault, appeared to match the buttons and thread of the man's coat. This man, Cheung Tak, was taken into custody by the police. He was sent to the Kowloon Hospital, from where he was discharged on August 2.

On August 6, at the Kowloon City Police Station, Mrs. Lafleur identified Cheung Tak as the man who had stabbed her.

Evidence was heard yesterday from Sgt. T. G. Mackay, Police Photographer, Mr. R. H. E. Marks, Assistant Superintendent of Police, Kowloon, and Mrs. Lafleur.

Mrs. Lafleur stated that prior to the incident she was in the sitting room, talking with the gardener, when she had noticed three men in the garden. She had ordered the gardener to mop up the floor at a spot from where some furniture had been removed. He had left the room and, shortly afterwards, she had been attacked by the two men.

Further hearing of the committal proceedings against Cheung Tak will continue through the afternoon of September 2.

JAPANESE SHELL
HEUNGCHOWChungshan, August 18.
A Japanese warship and two gunboats shelled and machine-gunned Heungchow, in the Chungshan district, yesterday. No damage was caused.—(Central News).JAPANESE ARRESTED IN
SHANGHAIHankow, August 18.
A Japanese and four Chinese policemen of the bogus government in mufti were arrested by police whilst searching the Hua Hsin Printing Press in Haining Road in the International Settlement yesterday morning.

Questioned by the police, they said that they were searching for books about Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

The Japanese was later handed over to the Japanese gendarme headquarters and the four Chinese to the First Special District Court.—(Central News).

CHANGSHA AIR RAID
CASUALTIESChangsha, August 18.
More than 200 persons were killed and over 500 wounded during yesterday's Japanese air raid over here which was described as the severest so far.

Over 100 missiles were rained over the densely-populated sections of the city, razing about 300 houses to the ground.—(Central News).

Gen. Vuillemin
At Bavarian
Plane Works

Berlin, Aug. 18.

The Chief of the General Staff of the French Air Force, General Vuillemin, and his entourage, were received at the Bavarian aeroplane works in Augsburg by the works' Director and Chief Constructor, Prof. Messerschmidt, yesterday afternoon.

The visitors were particularly interested in the two-motored heavy pursuit planes "BF 110" and made a thorough inspection of the factory.—(Transocean).

AN AIR PACT?

London, Aug. 18.

The visit of General Vuillemin to Germany and the friendly reception accorded to the French General is given much prominence in the London press.

The opinion is voiced that the visit of the French General might possibly initiate an understanding of the Western Powers regarding an air pact.

The Daily Express learns, in this connection, that the British Air Minister, Sir Kingsley Wood, will be invited to Berlin in the near future, and will accept such an invitation.—(Transocean).

FRENCH SCIENTIST

he was in Shanghai, he conveyed the greetings of the Director-General of the Institute to members of the branch and encouraged them in their work.

ANTI-RABIC RESEARCH

The French authorities in Shanghai are giving generous support to the Pasteur Institute there and are contemplating the building of a new pavilion near the present premises, said Professor Bernard. The anti-rabic research section of the Institute in Shanghai is visited daily by some 20 to 40 persons and when the new pavilion is completed the first floor of the building is to be entirely set apart for research.

The Institute in Shanghai is equipped with everything necessary to fight local diseases and to minister to the city's sanitary needs.

Financial Crisis
In GermanyLABOUR CLASSES
HAVE LOST THEIR FREEDOMSTRINGENCY OF CREDIT

Berlin, August 18.

The Financial News, commenting on Germany's financial crisis, states that while a variety of factors contributed to the decline, the basic factor has been the real and sudden stringency of credit resulting from a major change in financial policy, but the present difficulties cannot necessarily be interpreted as a sign of capital and labour in Germany at last revolting against the increasing burdens imposed on them.

Additional pressure on the German capitalists will doubtless provide a solution to the financial problem while by a forced labour decree, labouring classes have already entirely lost their freedom.

SEEKING TRADE TREATY WITH AMERICA

Indications that Germany is seeking again a German-American Trade Treaty is evident in the appeal for better trade relations between the two countries made by the Under Secretary of State in the Ministry of Economics, Herr Brinkmann.

Speaking in Berlin yesterday before the American and German Chamber of Commerce he remarked that the United States had land with surplus raw materials which Germany was lacking and could take up. The United States wished improvement in the German debt service which Germany would effect if she could sell more goods on the American market.

On the other hand, Mr. Cordell Hull's broadcast provoked an angry retort on the part of the semi-official organ, Diplomatic Correspondence, which remarks that Mr. Hull was conforming with the present trend in American foreign policy which "diverges more and more from the proclaimed principles of neutrality and non-intervention in the affairs of other States and, particularly other continents."

"America's efforts to play the part of moral instructor to the whole world, which offers a pretext for political interference in distant lands, is becoming clearer and clearer," adds the paper.—(Reuter).

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

London, Aug. 18.

The unfavourable indications of German economic conditions have been somewhat relieved by the foreign trade returns for July, showing exports of Greater Germany for that month to amount to 470,000,000 marks, representing an increase of 33,800,000 marks over June.

Imports totalled 472,500,000 marks, a decrease of 13,100,000 marks.

Greater Germany's unfavourable trade balance has thus been reduced from 49,400,000 in June to 2,500,000 marks in July.

Finished goods dominated the increase in exports, with a rise of 34,700,000 marks. The decrease in imports is mainly in foodstuffs, though purchases of raw materials and semi-finished goods increased.

These figures, however, are not considered sufficient to warrant the supposition that there is a change in the general tendency for imports to increase and exports to contract on contractions of the world market.—(Reuter).

BRITISH EXPORTS
TO SPAIN

London, August 18.

British exports to Spain have increased during recent months, it was revealed here yesterday. The total for the first six months of 1938 is over £1,000,000 higher than for the same period last year.

Imports into Nationalist Spain totalled £2,319,000. Coal, machinery and chemicals are the principal goods in demand.—(Transocean).
